

Strathmore Young Artists Market

Calling all young creators!

Are you a high school student or recent graduate who loves making art?

Do you want to share your creativity — and maybe even earn a little income from it?

Let's make Strathmore known for its talented young artists!

Join the first-ever Strathmore Young Artists Market, coming August 2026

What is it?

A one-day community market where young artists can display and sell their original works: paintings/prints, photography, crafts, jewelry, digital art, music, and more!

Every participant/group will have their own table to set up their shop!

Why join?

- Get real-world experience sharing and selling your artwork
- Build confidence and get community recognition and support
- Meet other young artists
- Be part of something new in Strathmore!

When and where will it be?

A Saturday or Sunday in August 2026, will be decided soon. Likely dates are the 8th, 9th, 15th, or 16th.

It will take place at an indoor venue. We are working on that selection process right now.

What does it cost?

We are currently talking with potential sponsors so that the tables will be free for all vendors! This event is for encouraging and supporting YOU as an artist!
